

Trinity River Corridor Project & Highland Park Village

Wednesday, February 29, 2012

10:00 am – 2:00 pm

Pre-conference Tour (optional)

Trinity River Corridor Project & Highland Park Village

(Pre-registration is required and additional fee applies. Lunch is included)

Initiated in 1998 based on original ideas dating to the 1950s, the Trinity River Corridor Project is finally being realized. This complex urban development effort, the largest in Dallas's history, transforms a flood protection solution into an opportunity for community revitalization, economic development and the creation of a world-class greenway. Community leader Phil Romano will lead a tour of this exciting project.

Next stop, the famed Highland Park Village, which is often referred to as the first planned shopping center in the United States with a unified architectural style and stores facing in toward an interior parking area, all built and managed under single ownership. Our tour host will be Ray Washburne, President and Managing Director and a member of the ownership family of Highland Park Village. The National Historic Landmark was purchased by its current owners in 2009, only the third sale in its history.

(Pre-registration is required and additional fee applies)
