

Nexus

Concept Masterplan

Nexus

"like the matrix of connection between things"

This mixed use development is located in the heart of central Europe. Its situation gives this project a unique and advantageous position, as it is well communicated both from the capital city to the north and other neighbouring European cities, close by.

Apart from the unusual site conditions, the different mix of uses make this scheme a unique and innovative scheme for the region. The program consists of a mixture of elements with complementary synergies across both sides of the site. Such a unique mix is expressed in the architecture of the development making it a unique experience for the people of this region.