To position the centre as more than a mall, a bold creative approach was introduced. With its "Beyond the Ordinary" teaser and launch, the campaign delivered almost seventy million impressions. The five-day opening, themed "A Celebration of All Things Alberta", featured home-grown celebrities, roving and stationary performers, multiple giveaways, a VIP concert by multi-platinum artist Paul Brandt, and spectacular opening and closing night fireworks displays. CrossIron Mills results were nothing short of extraordinary, with two hundred seventy five thousand shopper visits during the first five days days, one hundred million gross impressions of publicity and first month sales topping twenty seven million dollars.

2011 VIVA AWARD HONOREES

The Dubai Mall Dubai, United Arab Emirates

The Dubai Mall accommodates 1,200 shops over four levels and occupies a site area larger than 48 soccer fields combined. The design approach was aimed to not only make the shopping experience as pleasant and comfortable as possible, but also to make the mall an attraction in its own right. The mall contains features, such as The Fashion Island, a dedicated haute couture precinct; an Olympic size ice rink; The Dubai Aquarium and The Grove, a semi-outdoor retail street and an entertainment centre.

Total Retail Space: 5.9 million sq. ft
Number of Stores: 134

Forum Duisburg Duisburg, Germany

Total Gross Leasable Area (GLA): 58,220 sq. m
Number of Stores: 80

Forum Duisburg is located at the centre of Duisburg's retail pitch and is now undeniably the prime retail destination in Duisburg. Arranged as an ensemble of three buildings connected by a circular mall, Forum Duisburg provides approximately 58,220 square metres of lettable area with 80 retail units. The architecture is contemporary in style and uses sandstone, brick and steel. A specially designed sculpture, Goldene Leiter (Golden Ladder), connects all levels of the Forum. The centre has high-environmental credentials and features its own power plant, as well as one of the very first high-ranking BREEAM certificates for environmental performance in Continental Europe. Forum Duisburg has revolutionised the historically weak retail appeal of the city centre and expects to attract many shoppers.

Pavilion Kuala Lumpur

Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia

Total Retail Space: 1.37 million sq. ft.
Number of Stores: 450

Pavilion Kuala Lumpur is a world-class mixed-use urban development. It features a mix of 450 retail stores over seven levels and six precincts. The centre boasts exceptional design with a one-of-a-kind truncated cone skylight, signature Spanish steps, a versatile seating space during special events and a row of street-front luxury boutiques.

Queen Victoria Building

Sydney, Australia

Total Retail Space: 147,332.10 sq. ft.
Number of Stores: 165

The Queen Victoria Building (QVB) restoration was the result of six years of careful planning and implementation. Working together with the City of Sydney, Ipoh has achieved a delicate balance between historical preservation and commercial necessity, with the addition of 6 new escalators servicing the upper levels, new vibrant colour scheme, upgraded amenities, lighting, finishes and services. The results have given new life to the next chapter of this monumental Sydney treasure.

Westfield SouthCenter

Tukwila, Washington

Total Retail Space: 1,700,000 sq. ft.
Number of Stores: 245

Minutes from downtown Seattle, Westfield Southcenter, is now the largest shopping center in the Pacific Northwest. The $240 million expansion comprises 400,000 square feet that includes an AMC theater, Borders, flagship locations for H&M and XXI Forever, several fine-dining restaurants, a dining terrace and two new parking structures. The design goal was to create a bold new expression for the center that would address the strong regional character of the Pacific Northwest. A dramatic 80 glass curtain-wall entrance, with a bold roof and dynamic exposed structure, is the centerpiece of the new exterior and a focal point for the composition of brick, stone, glass, and metal elements

AUG.5 Grand Opening
Southgate Centre
Edmonton, Alberta, Canada
Ivanhoe Cambridge

OPENING

August 5th-9th

To command attention in Canada's most competitive retail market, Edmonton's Southgate pulled out all the stops to debut their new expansion wing filled with the latest brands. An innovative outdoor teaser campaign that simply stated AUG. 5, along with dramatic imagery, piqued the entire city's curiosity. A highly captivating multi-media campaign featuring cirque-like imagery generated 117 million gross media impressions. The Centre grew its budget with over $330,000 in cost savings to deliver a breathtaking opening that increased traffic by 41% and generated $21.60/sq.ft. in expansion wing sales over the 5-day celebration.

IconWeeks
Bruun's Galleri
Archus C, Denmark
Steen & Strøm Denmark A/S

Following Design Weeks in 2007 and Urban Art Weeks in 2008, the 2009 event, aptly named Icon Weeks, focused on great icons of modern culture e.g.: Mick Jagger, Grace Jones, Mickey Mouse, Michael Jackson and The Beatles. The aim was to highlight and celebrate the cultural icons who inspire and maintain a central position in collective cultural conscience and show how these icons have inspired the autumn/winter-fashion look.

Mr. Green

Bruun's Galleri, Bergen, Field's Copenhagen & Kolding Storcenter
Denmark
Steen & Strøm Denmark A/S

Steen & Strøm launched an ambitious campaign in all of its 17 shopping centres in Denmark focus environmental and social responsibility. Partnering with the environmental cultural organisation "Viva la Renovation", Steen & Strøm developed the character Mr. Green whose purpose was to highlight sustainable choices in everyday lives and inspire people to use them. The campaign ran for more than five months and centered around a digital platform with the focus on social medias. In addition, the campaign featured one very large event each week held in public areas, parks, streets and festivals, to maximize media and PR attention.
